

Holly THE Leaf

VOL. 17—NO. 13

State Teachers College, Salisbury, Maryland

Monday, May 12, 1958

Four Freshmen Receive Scholarships to STC

Four freshman girls will continue into their sophomore year on scholarships received for the second consecutive year. These scholarships are given for the purpose of improving the situation concerning the shortage of teachers in this state.

The Beta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma, an organization of teachers from Dorchester, Talbot, Worcester, Somerset, and Wicomico Counties, awarded a $150 scholarship to Ruth Tyler from Crisfield. This scholarship, given annually to women students majoring in education is awarded on the basis of scholarship, character, and potential success as a teacher. Ruth is active in the sports program and the college chorus as well as a volunteer worker at Deer's Head Hospital.

Becky Forsythe and Pat Clow will continue into their sophomore year on $100 scholarships awarded by the Havre de Grace P.T.A. and Harford Board of Education. These scholarships are awarded to future teachers and the recipients are compelled to sign a two-year contract to teach in Harford County upon graduation. Becky Forsythe is a member of the college chorus, cheer-leading squad, and bowling league. Pat Clow is also a very active member of the bowling league. Both girls plan to major in elementary education.

Betty Hash from Fallston, Maryland, was first awarded a $200 scholarship upon graduation from Bel Air High School by the Harford County P.T.A. and has received it again for her sophomore year. This scholarship is also

(Continued on Page 2)

Nancy Horsman and Louise Holbrook Take Part in Flower Mart

STC was again represented in The Annual Flower Mart of Salisbury. Nancy Horsman, May Queen, and Louise Holbrook, Miss STC, took part in the Flower Mart parade on Saturday, May 10.

Held every year, the Flower Mart has as its purpose helping needy children in the county by doing such things as providing free hot lunches for them.

DR. WILBUR DEVILBISS CROWNS NANCY HORSMAN QUEEN OF MAY at the annual May Day Festival as members of the court look on. Miss Horsman and Miss STC, Miss Louise Holbrook represented the college in Salisbury's Flower Mart Parade.

Spring Concert to Be Given by the College Chorus

The College Chorus will present a concert on Tuesday, May 13, at 1:45 P.M., in the Auditorium.

The Chorus will sing "Hark a Thrilling Voice Is Sounding", "The Testament of Freedom", "Round and Round", and "Russian Picnic." Tom Daffin will sing a solo in the last selection.

The Ladies' Ensemble will render "Begin the Beguine", "Madame Jeanette", and "Panis Angelicus." Jeanne Gladden will sing a solo on the last selection.

The Men's Chorus will present a group of spirituals — "Steal Away", "Drill Ye Tarriers, Drill", "Black Is the Color", and "Aain't Gonna Grieve." Don Moore will sing a solo on the last selection.

There will also be a Barber Shop Quartet and a duet to render several songs.

Photography Club

President James Little
Vice President Edwin Smith
Sec.-Treas. Bill Bailey

Seniors Sign Contracts For Teaching Positions

With graduation less than a month away, most of the members of the Senior Class have signed teaching contracts for the coming year or are contacting different counties for teaching positions. Those who graduated in February and are presently teaching are John Furlono, (Montgomery County); Frank Gentle, (Baltimore County); and William Brown, (Worcester County).

A number of the Senior Class have signed contracts and completed arrangements for teaching positions for next September. They are as follows: Kay Harrison, Prince George's County; William Landon, Montgomery County; Thomas Fallin, Anne Arundel County; Edward Carey, Wicomico County; Louise Holbrook, Worcester County; Loyann Hruitt, Prince George's County; Joan Hayman, Caroline County; and Joseph Steelman, Anne Arundel County.

THE HOLLY LEAF STAFF

Published Weekly at State Teachers College, Salisbury, Maryland

Editor Joanne Cathell
 Assistant Editor Jean Pusey
 Copy Gloria Miller and Grace Zaghi
 Business Helen Luzetsky
 Photography Jack Rush
 Circulation Rebecca Matthews
 Sports Carole Kirkwood, Tom Fallin
 Typists Norma Culver, Maryanna Lake, Mary Lou Lambden, Wanda Parks
 Staff Advisor Mrs. A. L. Fleming
 Reporters: Nancy Atkinson, Barbara Caine, Louise Campbell, Gene Carstens, Thelma Hackert, Janet Hart, Joan Hayman, Carolyn Higgins, Louise Holbrook, Lucy Holloway, Janice Hubbard, Michael Shortall, Jack Weise, Mary Wright, Lou Pritchard, Helen Layman, Connie Mears.

BURIED TALENTS...

The last weeks of the semester are spinning ever closer and it is nearer the time when one can let out his breath in a long sigh and say, "Well that's one more I've coasted through. What a life!"

How many of us subconsciously do think these very thoughts? How many of us are continually patting ourselves on the back for getting by with as little effort as possible, for bluffing, for letting it all go in one ear and out the other? How many of us take pride in burying our talents and abilities as deeply as possible so that we can take the path of least resistance and drift casually through four years of college work, with little more than a piece of paper signifying a B.S. degree and a few vaguely formed misconceptions of what to expect now that we're on our own?

A horrid thought has come to mind! Suppose life after college isn't one grand picnic? Suppose there are such things as work, and decisions, and responsibilities? Suppose the world finds us out, discovers that we're phonies, that our glib conversation is merely covering up for an aimless pattern of life? Will we be able to satisfy ourselves with our luck and personality when we find to our sorrow that even that which we had is taken away?

When the final test comes, how many of us will be able to stand up and count ourselves among the Men and Women? And how many of us will find that we'll have to remain seated with the aimless individuals who have lived on the assumption that they owe nothing to anybody, that the world owed them a living? —Gloria Miller

YANKS

(Continued from Page 4)

Richardson, McDougall and Carey. The outfield, consisting of Bauer, Mantle, and rookie Norm Siebern, is strong and should become stronger with more experience for the rookie.

The fourth reason would be the lack of consistency of the rest of the league. They will be beating each other's brains out while the Yankees beat them all and roll on to another World Series check.

SCHOLARSHIPS

(Continued from Page 1)

awarded to potential teachers who sign a pledge to teach in Harford County for two years. Betty has been active in intramural sports and the college chorus and plans to major in elementary education.

STC Women Now Have Softball Team in Action

A woman's softball team has been selected by Delores Gardner, softball manager, and Dr. Alethea Whitney. Those playing on the team are:

Joyce Bennett	Catcher
Ruth Neilson	Pitcher
Lou Lambden	Pitcher
Barbara Streett	First Base
Pat Lloyd	Second Base
Helen Luzetsky	Third Base
Delores Gardner	Short Stop
Jerry Blazek
Janet Hopkins
Joyce Flowers	Outfielders
Jo Synder
Carole Kirkwood

A game will be played at STC with Wesley Junior College on Thursday, May 15th.

FACULTY HERE AND THERE STUDENTS

By JANICE HUBBARD

Barbara Disharoon spent last weekend with Jane Jennings in Baltimore. Carolyn Higgins, Jane Harris, and Regina Hughes attended the May Dance at Wesley Junior College, Dover, Delaware on May 3.

Mary Jo and Pat Shortall of Eastern spent last weekend with their sister Michael Shortall here on campus.

Marilyn Boston visited Washington College, Chestertown, on May 3 for Inter-Sorority Weekend.

On May 13 Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss will represent the college in the academic procession at the inauguration of the new president of State Teachers College at Trenton, New Jersey.

Ruth Neilsen, Norma Lee Phillips, Helen Luzetsky, and Barbara Caine were hostesses for a surprise miscellaneous shower given in honor of Dolores Gardner on May 5.

Delores Gardner, Pat Bailey, and Ruth Neilsen visited friends in Baltimore last weekend.

Several college students attended the shower given recently for Lovejoy Truitt by a cousin, Miss Helen Livingston.

Helen Luzetsky spent last weekend with Barbara Caine in Greensboro.

Dr. Wilbur Devilbiss is serving as chairman of the speaker's campaign for the new wing of the Peninsula General Hospital.

On May 4 Dr. John B. May was principal speaker at the presentation of leadership and scholarship awards to local high school students under the sponsorship of the Elks Club. The college chorus, under the direction of Jesse Fleming, rendered several selections.

My Neighbors

"At this point, I'd say that dependents are a poor substitute for tax relief!"

Students of STC Tutor; Gain Teaching Experience

Various students of STC are gaining experience, as well as supplementing their income, by devoting a few evenings a month to tutoring people needing additional help in one or more subjects at their particular school.

Nancy Horsman, a senior, tutored a seventh grade student from Wicomico Junior High School in math this semester.

Norma Culver, a senior, also has been tutoring this semester. She has been helping a ninth grade student from Wicomico High School in English.

Louise Holbrook, a senior, has been tutoring a fourth grade student from Pinehurst Elementary School in all subjects this semester.

Charles Muir, a senior, has been tutoring students from Wicomico High School in math.

J. H. Williams, a senior, has been tutoring in math and science since he first came to STC. He also helps people who are not in school, but wish to brush up on these subjects.

Patsy Miller, a junior, has been offering her help in all subjects to a tenth grade student from Wicomico High School for the past four semesters.

Linda Sehman, a junior, has been tutoring a third grade child in arithmetic and a fifth grade child in all subjects. The students are from Delmar.

Carol Kirkwood, a junior, has tutored a second grade child from Pinehurst Elementary School in arithmetic this year.

Bill Bailey, a junior, has this year been offering additional help in French to people out of school, as well as students.

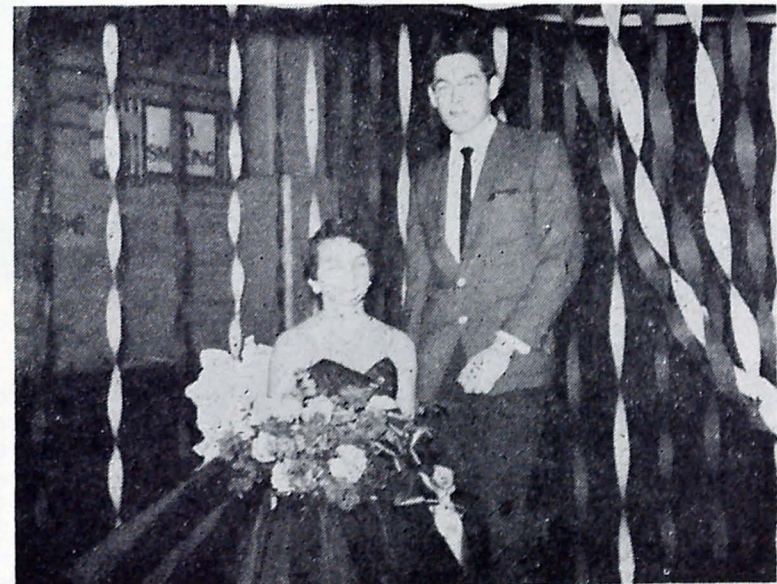

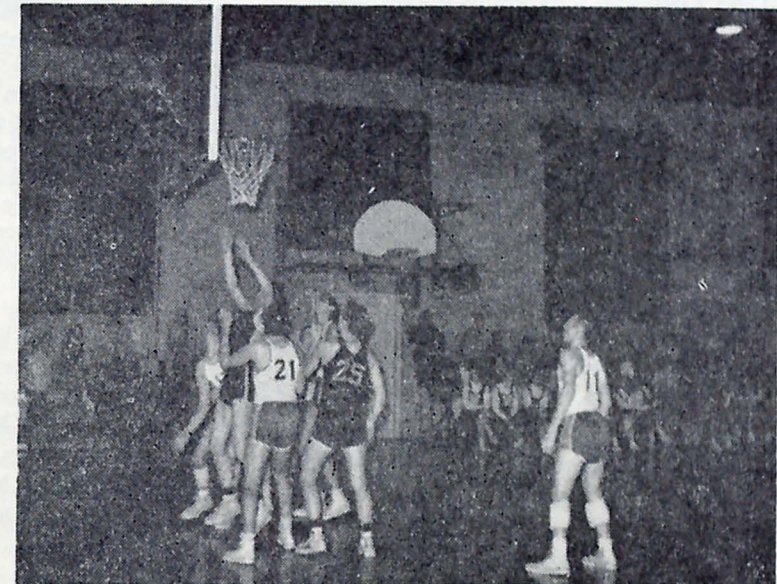

Nancy Townsend, a sophomore, has been tutoring in math the last two semesters. The students are a sophomore and a senior who attend Wicomico High School.

Joanne Cathell, a senior, is tutoring an elementary pupil in reading.

As a class project, the education Class 304, has been tutoring children from the Campus Elementary School in reading.

These people, who have been thus offering their services to the community, find that tutoring affords an ample opportunity to increase their proficiency in the art of teaching prior to actual class room associations which they are preparing to enter.

School Year 1957-58—Pictures Speak for Themselves

Why the Yanks Will Win the American League Pennant

By Gary White

There are three major reasons why the Yankees will win the pennant this season and then maybe there are four. The first of these reasons would be their strong pitching staff. The staff is one of the strongest in the league and is usually pretty stingy in giving up runs. At the present time the group is headed by Bob Turley who has given up one earned run in three starts. Then we have Don Larsen whose earned run mark is high in the league, 0.00. To run out the starters there is little Bobby Shantz, Johnny Kuchs and Whitey Ford. Ford is the only one who has lost more than he has won. To back them up Casey has Grim, Sturtivant, Duren, and Cicotte.

Another factor in the favor of the New Yorkers is their prowess at the plate. At the present time two of their regulars are hitting well below normal and still they are in first place. If Mantle and Berra start hitting as they should the race will be a shambles. As of this moment the two leading hitters of the club are Skowron and McDougall. McDougall has long been one of the best clutch hitters in the game but he has been overshadowed by the slugging of Mantle. Hank Bauer doesn't hit high on the average but usually gets the hits when they count. Their weakest hitting positions are third base and second.

A third reason for the Yankees' success is their fielding. Presently their fielding average is leading the league. However errors by McDougall have cost them a couple of ball games. This is unusual for McDougall is usually considered the second best shortstop in the league in his field merits. Combining fielding with hitting and he is the best. They have a solid infield with Showron

(Continued on Page 2)

Gulls Outslug D.C. Teachers 9-7

Once again Tom Dorman proved man of the hour as he came on in relief and stopped the District of Columbia Teachers College while his teammates slugged out a 9-7 win.

Pete Cathell started and gave three runs, allowing only a pair of safeties. Phil Barker came on in the third and gave up three hits and a pair of tallies. Dorman put out the fire in the fifth stanza and completed the game, allowing two hits and an equal number of runs. It was Tom's second win in three outings.

The Gulls, trailing by four big runs came to life in the fourth inning picking up five runs on four hits, two knocks, a walk, and a miscue. Smith, Gray, Reddish, and Barker collected the hits.

The Capitol City nine scored in the bottom of the fourth to knot the score, and rallied again in the fifth to make it 6-5. This lead was temporary as Fallin, Alderson, Taylor, Gray, and Reddish hit safely and Smith scored four big runs.

D.C. scored once more in the sixth to make it 9-7, and that was how it ended.

STC	AB	H	R	PO	A
Butler	3	1	0	1	0
Fallon, lf	5	1	1	1	0
Bozman, c.	5	1	1	6	0
Smith, 2b	4	1	1	1	4
Alderson rf	4	2	2	2	0
Taylor, 3b	3	1	1	1	0
Gray, ss	4	1	2	3	2
Reddish, 1b	3	0	2	6	0
Cathell, p	1	0	0	0	0
Barker, p	2	1	1	0	0
Dorman, p	1	0	0	0	1
TOTALS	35	9	11	21	8

D.C. Teachers	AB	H	R	PO	A
Larsen, cf	4	2	1	3	0
Goins, p	2	2	1	0	2
Gardner, 3b	4	1	3	2	1
Sturdivant, 1b	2	0	1	6	0
Nash, lf	4	1	0	0	0
Klein, c	4	0	0	5	1
Roberts, ss	4	0	1	3	3
Main, 2b	1	0	0	1	0
J. Ward, rf	3	0	0	1	0
TOTALS	28	7	7	21	7

Some sidelights worth mentioning are: Charley Muir again turned in a creditable coaching stint; Pete Cathell's first start was well done; Earl Bozman's batting average dropped to a measly .750; Tom Fallin finally started hitting the ball, and picked up a club of one; some avid STC rooters (all of the fairer sex) went to the game, and it was appreciated by the (?).

A closing thought—Tuesday's match with Wesley Jr. College was postponed till a later date due to high tides.

The smartest fashions for any occasion...

